

Connecting worlds

From Paris to Ashgabat.
From Casablanca to Beijing.

WE CONNECT WORLDS...

Through the streets of Paris all the way to Ashgabat, and directly from Casablanca to Beijing by air. We know national markets inside and out. We are part of strategic alliances and uphold partnerships in air, sea and road freight. We always strive to meet your transport logistics needs with the utmost efficiency. As such, we rely on our many years' experience and are constantly evolving to be able to offer you innovative solutions.

Breaking new ground takes courage. And it was a courageous step taken 130 years ago by the founders of Miltzer & Münch when they laid the company's foundations in Germany. Today, our routes take us through Western and Eastern Europe, into the Commonwealth of Independent States, through the Maghreb and into the Middle and Far East.

Whilst other companies often service these markets merely as a by-product of their operations, we focus our attention on Eurasia and North Africa. We depend on international competency in our road, air, sea and projects business sectors.

Our commitment is built around longevity and sustainability. We respect foreign cultures, strengthen the human factor in our work and make wise use of natural resources – this has become living practice for every one of our staff, at every location.

... FROM WEST TO EAST ...

... Through dense traffic in Western Europe and across the vast expanses of Eastern Europe, we offer superior and secure freight transport – from Paris to Ashgabat, from Casablanca to Beijing. We know every border crossing point, speak the national language and are intimately familiar with the situation on the ground.

How can that be? It's simple – over time we have allied ourselves with professionals in the countries along our routes, establishing long-standing partnerships. This combination of regional know-how and international competency makes our day-to-day work noticeably easier. That saves time and, of course, money.

We have worked to develop logistics services and contributed know-how in many eastern countries. Regional economic growth is making these new markets ever more interesting, and consequently they take our entire focus.

Comprehensive networks need strong partners: we are a founding member of the air freight partnership Future and the sea freight associations Group '99 and Global Container Group. Together with our partners CargoLine (groupage services) and ELVIS (part and full loads), we take on all road cargo services.

People call us 'the East specialist' – that makes us very proud.

... WITH IDEAS AND PIONEERING SPIRIT...

... We travel kilometre by kilometre from Lyon over the Alps, through Italy and eventually into South-East Europe down to the Bosphorus. Heading along the Black Sea coast towards Baku, Azerbaijan's capital city, moving through Tehran to Almaty and into the financial heart of Kazakhstan. Can you imagine keeping constant track of all groupage, part and full load shipments? No? Then you simply have to try out our online cross-country shipment tracking service. You'll see that it's definitely possible.

And it makes no difference how excessively large or small your parcel, pallet or consignment is. We deliver your cargo safely to its destination. Contact persons stationed at key border crossings guarantee fast and neutral customs clearance.

On request, your goods can also be professionally stored. To this end we have access to logistics centres and hubs covering more than 160,000 square metres.

Whether you need an import or export document, T1 dispatch note or waybill – we support you in all customs and transit formalities.

There is enormous potential in air freight. Through our experience and our partners we can also confidently realise complex requirements.

●●● IN THE AIR ●●●

... We work for you day and night so that express goods arrive on time, even in the most remote areas of our planet. This is essential so as to seamlessly integrate our delivery services across five continents. Especially when time is not on our side. A large cargo plane can take on around 130 tonnes. Placing and arranging the various shipments inside forces our team to demonstrate considerable sensitivity and spatial awareness. After all, it is vital to fully utilise every cubic metre of space.

This is the only way to meet our own efficiency and profitability targets. Working alongside our partners, we bundle expert know-how and IT competency. Air freight consolidation, direct shipments and charter flights – our air services connect you directly with your procurement and sales markets around the globe. Guaranteed.

In over 60 years as an official IATA agent, we developed a worldwide network of in-house air freight offices and exclusive partner agencies. Complex dangerous goods shipments, express and courier services, door-to-door shipments, customs management of your goods and all-in handling of especially urgent shipments are now, thanks to our decades of experience, part of our daily business.

More than two-thirds of all commodities are now transported by ship. We deliver long-term, efficient solutions tailored to our customers' needs.

... ACROSS OCEANS ...

Millions of FCL and LCL containers change location every day. Ports look like colossal representations of Tetris, where cranes playfully and seemingly randomly move around different sizes of red, green and yellow containers, allocating them to the right cargo ships heading to China, Italy or Morocco. And all of that just in time.

It's a masterpiece of logistics for which we are continuously enhancing and perfecting our sea freight service portfolio. Based on our sea freight solutions your global supply chain can flourish.

The spotlight is always on your goods – from sea-worthy packaging through to picking and hinterland transports. If you prefer, we can also deal with every aspect of customs management on your behalf even if you need a tailored solution, such as a combination of air and sea routes. Any time.

Our memberships in sea freight partnerships ensure that cargo space is always used in an economic and sustainable way.

... ON LONG ROUTES ...

... Whether by ship, plane, truck or train, over the Atlas Mountains or through subtropical regions, we transport your heavy and dangerous goods safely through Europe, Asia and North Africa. We can relocate entire factories and transport gigantic rotors for a wind power plant along the Silk Road: nothing is too heavy, too large or impossible in project logistics.

Sit back and relax as we handle every aspect of shipping your goods. We produce all the necessary documentation, deal with the insurance service and apply for special permits. No distance is too far for us, and no project is too complex. We can arrange for heavy transport or police escorts and, on request, can also send our dangerous goods officer to advise you. Our dangerous goods officer is an expert in his field, knows all the right people and thus guarantees fast, proper customs clearance and professional loading of your goods. Simple and straightforward.

Regardless of where your cargo is heading, we will find your perfect combination of road, rail, inland waterways, the open ocean and, of course, air. Let's get started with joint planning and personal consultations. We guarantee absolute reliability, punctuality and, of course, the highest safety standards.

We have the experience, the flexibility and the contacts to realise your projects safely and speedily.

... WITH PEOPLE AROUND THE WORLD ...

Behind every cargo is an idea, a project and a story. Here at Miltizer & Münch, we bring these ideas and stories to life.

We take the next steps in a process that begins at one location and follow it through to the final destination. Our company employs more than 2,800 people at more than 100 locations in over 30 countries around the world who are waiting to work with you. Experience drawn from more than a century of transport logistics is our distinguishing feature. Our people can cope with any challenge and cooperate to find the most efficient route for your shipment. One hundred percent.

We are a global family that acts locally and thinks internationally. Each one of us brings Miltizer & Münch one step further into the future of logistics. With a pioneering spirit, the power of innovation and sustainability.
